OLD POSTOFFICE WOULD MAKE A GOOD CITY HALL

A Use That Would Keep Up Business Around Merchant and Bethel Streets.

A Suggestion From Robert Rycroft About a New Site for the Custom House to Make Room for Harbor Improvement.

Editor Advertiser:—While the facts set forth in your editorial on the objections to the old postoffice site seem to have left the proposed new building with very little ground to stand on in that quarter, there are those who still cling to the old place because, as they say, the choice of a new one would drive away neighboring business. Now it seems to me that business can be kept there easily enough if the coming municipality of Honolulu will make a trade and, in return for a new post-office site, get back the old one for city hall purposes. That would put the city hall, police station and police magistrate's court close together and make business even livelier than it is now.

MERCHANT.

CUSTOM HOUSE AND HARBOR.
Editor Advertiser:—I notice you have been soliciting suggestions as to suitable sites for new postoffice and other government buildings and many places have been discussed as to suitability both for appearance and convenience, but the site of the custom house was settled on with but little deliberation at a late meeting. The old site, so I understand, was decided on as being the best. I think this would be making a second great mistake—the first was in filling in that portion of the harbor where the custom house now stands and the second would be the building of an expensive and permanent structure on that site and so making it practically impossible to rectify the error if it came to be seen that the dredging out of the harbor between the foot of Fort and Alakea streets was absolutely necessary for the accommodation of large ships which will surely come to us when the canal is put through.

Let me call your attention to the time of the breaking out of the Spanish war when a few transports blocked up our harbor to the detriment of all our other shipping; and what would be the conditions supposing the Panama Canal should be cut through within the next ten or fifteen years, as I certainly think it will be.

Now for instance, when the Korea came in the other day, do you think it would have been safe or expedient to have taken her to any place but the Naval Wharf right directly opposite the passage? I doubt whether the pilots would have cared to take her to any other; and what would be the case if there were two or three vessels of the Korea's size (or larger), presenting themselves outside to be docked?

The custom house would be equally convenient if built on the block just makai of the new Hackfeld building and so leave all that space to be dredged out from where the custom house now stands and form slips like the naval slips, right across to the Oceanic wharf. This will have to be done when the canal is put through. With slips opposite the passage it might make it possible to handle the largest ships by their own steam and it is not practicable to take large ships across the waterfront and dock them without great expenditure of time and money, and more or less danger to the vessels.

There are ships now 750 feet long and it is very probable by that time there will be ships 1,000 feet in length, as the larger the vessel the cheaper the transportation of freight.

In my opinion this will have to be done or the shipping will be diverted to Pearl Harbor or Hilo, both of them capable of being made good roomy harbors; and in that case Honolulu people would find that our present postoffice would be quite large enough for our needs, for as the other two places would grow Honolulu would decrease in size. This harbor should be made as convenient for handling all kinds of shipping as Hongkong; and the city of Honolulu and its suburbs as sanitary as Singapore.

Yours,

R. RYCROFT.

CHINESE BURGLARS CAUGHT IN ACT

While in the act of cutting through a rear door in the tailoring shop of Faria, on Beretania street opposite the Queen's Hospital, Kon Chee and Tai Sing, two Chinese with unsavory police records, were trapped on Saturday morning at 3:30 o'clock by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and Officer Ah On. The evidences of their attempt were a brace and bit and nineteen bored holes in the door. Chillingworth and Ah On, who had been given a quiet tip that the burglary was to take place some time after 11 o'clock Friday night, concealed themselves in the hospital premises. At 3:15 a. m. Saturday the officers saw two Chinese walk toward the store. Both went to the rear of the place, and shortly after one of the pair, who was afterwards identified as Tai Sing, came to the sidewalk, lighted a cigarette and put himself on watch. Occasionally he went to the rear of the store. Finally the officers came to the conclusion that the other one might be making off with the booty, leaving Tai Sing as a blind, and they suddenly pounced upon the latter. He was gagged and then they looked after Kon Chee. He was found in the act of boring a hole, like captured others, in the door. He was captured and both confessed that they were in straitened circumstances and desired the cloth in the tailor store, as they said they could dispose of it easily. They confessed also to having burglarized a Japanese tobacco store during the week.

The men appeared before Judge Wilcox Saturday morning, and on motion of their attorney for a continuance, were held in bonds of $250 each.

THE Y. W. C. A. IS TO INCORPORATE

Articles of incorporation of the Young Women's Christian Association of Honolulu have been filed with Treasurer Kopekai by Mesdames Alice C. Jordan, Eleazore S. Atherton, Estelle Darrak Dyke, Mary Eloise Marx, Ida von Holt, Ella McCandless, Emma M. Dillingham, Jessie Usborne and Miss Cornelia B. Hyde. These ladies constitute the board of directors, which is to consist of not less than six nor more than sixteen members. The officers are Alice C. Jordan, president; Cornelia B. Hyde, secretary, and Mary Eloise Marx, treasurer.

The petitioners set forth that the association is for women, having for its principal object the physical, social, intellectual and spiritual development of young women in the Territory of Hawaii, but especially in Honolulu. They do not propose to issue shares of stock or engage in business of any kind.

The association is to have a life of fifty years, to have a status in the courts of law, and it may handle property to the value of $500,000, and receive gifts by devise, bequest or otherwise; act as executor, administrator, trustee, guardian or otherwise for property of persons coming within the sphere of its influence, including the guardianship of such minors or other persons as the courts may appoint or parents designate. The association may incur debts and secure their payment by mortgage or hypothecation of its property, or may issue bonds for such debts secured by trust deed of its property.

Earthquakes in Utah.

SALT LAKE (Utah), December 6.—Since November 17, when an earthquake shook up Southern Utah and as far north as Salt Lake, there have been daily shocks felt in the extreme southeastern portion of the state. According to advices received from Pine Valley, a hamlet in the mountains of Washington county, not a day has passed since that date that at least one earthquake shock has not been felt, and serious alarm is being felt for the safety of the place. Every chimney in the town has been badly cracked or completely tumbled over. At Pinto the shocks have been so severe that the public school has been abandoned for several days. About fifteen miles south are five or six old craters, and the continuance of the earthquake shocks has strengthened the belief that there has been a fresh outbreak of volcanic activity in the mountains of that region.

Rev. A. Mackintosh has been appointed chaplain of the Elks Lodge.
